

Dear Friend,

Warm greetings from all of us at Healing Hearts Transforming Nations (HHTN) Global.

As we reflect on the second quarter of 2025, our hearts are filled with gratitude and praise.

Yet the need continues to grow.

War, destruction and conflict are erupting in many parts of the world. Still, our hope remains anchored in the promise of Psalm 2:8: "Ask of me, and I will make the nations your inheritance, the ends of the earth your possession." This promise, given to Christ, extends to His Church. We are therefore urged not to retreat but to press forward—until, as Revelation 11:15 declares, "The kingdom of this world has become the kingdom of our Lord and of His Christ."

The call is clear: we must go deeper, reach further and stand firmer. Whether facing conflict, historical injustice, or forced displacement, the healing message of the Cross is more urgent than ever.

Your continued support—in encouragement, in prayer and in giving—is what sustains this ministry.

"...all things are from God, who reconciled us to Himself through Jesus Christ and gave us the ministry of reconciliation"
2 Corinthians 5:18

Francophone School of Reconciliation | 15th – 29th April 2025

As Ivory Coast prepares for elections in October 2025, the political atmosphere is tense. Amid this backdrop, AGIR (Association Pour La Guérison, Reconciliation Et Restoration) hosted the Francophone School of Reconciliation.

Transitioning from reactive outreach to strategic engagement, AGIR has begun working toward a national vision that includes peace education for children and youth, civic education and strengthening partnerships.

Powerful testimonies emerged—a woman whose husband began sending couples in conflict to her for healing; another who led sessions from her home, witnessing the transformation of her own family.

In Tiassalé and Ndouci, peace conferences held after the school brought church and community leaders together to confront past wounds, tribalism and political tensions.

These communities resolved to work together, and Tiassalé will now serve as AGIR's national headquarters.

Church and community leaders in Ivory Coast gather to confront tribal wounds, share testimonies of healing and commit to a vision for peace ahead of the October 2025 elections in Ivory Coast.

Way of Peace - Kenya

East African School of Reconciliation (EASOR) - Kakuma | 5th - 23rd May 2025

A historic mission unfolded in the Kakuma and Kalobeyei refugee camps, where the East African School of Reconciliation (EASOR) was held entirely within a refugee setting for the first time.

Organised by Way of Peace and the United Refugee and Host Churches (URHC), the gathering brought together over 104 participants from nine countries—and with them, unforgettable stories of transformation.

Among them was Clementine, a Burundian refugee, whose healing journey led her to become a confident HHTN facilitator. Then there was Miracle, a courageous teenage girl whose family had suffered the trauma of her mother's poisoning and death. In a remarkable act, she led her family through a powerful journey of forgiveness.

The Spirit moved mightily throughout the school, and as a result, thirty-one newly trained facilitators are now actively ministering across the region.

Under an MOU with Peace and Reconciliation Network, AIU continues integrating HHTN within its programmes, including planning peace conferences and launching a Diaspora Taskforce to nurture a spirit of reconciliation among student communities who originate from conflict and war affected countries.

West Africa School of Reconciliation (WASOR)

27th May – 7th June 2025

WASOR 2025 was bold. No budget, no sponsors—just faith. Held in Monrovia, it brought together hearts hungry for healing.

Hosted by HHTN Global, PRN-Africa, and local partners, the school was a sacred space for truth-telling and transformation.

Powerful moments unfolded. Americans repented for slavery and global injustice. Tribal leaders and pastors confessed historical and personal wrongs. Walls came down. Tears flowed. Hugs followed.

One pastor wept over the ritual killing of his son. A woman shared her pain from refugee camp abuse. A young man forgave his father after years of silence. Wounds opened. Healing began.

Twenty-four participants completed the Training of Facilitators. They didn't stop there. They led practicum workshops—for youth groups, women's fellowship and pastors.

The fire of reconciliation is now spreading across Liberia through new facilitators who have already begun using the HHTN material in their churches.

Bishop Abraham Nhial, himself a former refugee, brought the past to life: "I was in group one, zone one—showing we were the first people to come to Kakuma." Through his story, the webinar traced the arc of displacement—from despair to purpose.

Dr. Nyamutera reminded us: "There's nothing shameful or embarrassing about being a refugee... even our Lord Jesus was a refugee." His words reframed identity and restored dignity.

Jonina Karugaba, UNHCR's regional lead, recounted a moment in Sierra Leone: "Every time you greeted them and asked how they were, they responded: 'I tell God thank you.'"
